PATTONS' PLANT GOES TO WEST END

GRAND JURY RAPPS AUTO SPEEDING

Tobacco Company Abandons Original Idea of Locating in South Richmond.

Options Already Secured Continental Warehouses on Leigh Street Included as Part of Site.

Because of the lack of adequate tracks and other railway facilities the Patton's Tobacco Company has decided not to build its new factory and office building in South Richmond, as originally planned. Instead, the structure will in all probability be erected in the West End, where the company has obtained options on the Continental Warehouses on Leigh Street and about six acres of land running over to the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad shops. The property contains about ten acres. It is understood that the deal will be closed some time this week and the money for the purchase of the land will be retained by the company and will be used for warehouse purposes.

The price of the property has not yet been given out, and will not be until the deal is closed, but it is stated that the sum paid is much larger than that paid in South Richmond, though the acreage is only about one-third as large. Directors of the company, however, covered the purchase in the long run it would be better to locate on this side of the river, as there are other advantages to be considered, such as the proximity to the shipping facilities.

Plans for the new building will not be made until the purchase of the property is completed. It is probable that the new building will be a two-story structure, with a large central hall, and will be used for warehouse purposes. The building will be located on the Leigh Street side of the river, and will be used for warehouse purposes.

With about fifty boxes missing, about $2,200 in Tag Day money was counted last night, the results of yesterday's efforts in behalf of the Instructive Visiting Nurses' Association. It is believed that when all the boxes are in the total will be somewhere between $2,200 and $2,300.

A portion of the money, collected by 600 fair women, or sweet charity's sake, and not turned in last night, was deposited in the Church Hill Bank, and will be counted to-day. The figures numbered among the faithful and the National Bank of Virginia. The stations not reporting included those of the Patton, Church Hill, Highgate Park, Oregon Hill and those in charge of Father Glenn, who was at work among the colored population.

Will Send Checks.

The association was advised that a great many checks which were prevented by the extremely inclement weather of the day from purchasing tags, were now being sent to the association to-day, and these are expected to materially swell the grand total. It is believed that the donations will more than make up for the loss of the day.

Undoubtedly, the weather conditions affected the receipts to a very large extent. A gloomy day is never a good day for the collection of money, and the effect that a minimum of people was at the stations.

Had Many Stations.

There were 100 stations, and two, three or four women at every station. At all the stations the women were home not empty-handed. No man dared walk a square from his office door without flaring the sign that he was a member of the association. The women were tagged. There were no set prices for the little red strips. Every man gave as he could, remembering that the money was for the benefit of the poor, and was the gift of the man who carelessly flung his gold and knew not how to use it.

RECEIVERS NAMED

Blair Glass Manufacturing Company Goes Into Bankruptcy.

The Blair Glass Manufacturing Company (Inc.) filed in the hands of receivers yesterday. A petition in voluntary bankruptcy was filed in the United States District Court setting forth liabilities of $25,000 and assets of $25,000.

Judge Edmund Waddill, Jr., named Carey B. Blair, president of the company, and Robert Blair, vice president, as receivers. A large portion of the liabilities consists of wages due employees, while there are assets consisting of a large quantity of glassware, and a large quantity of machinery and tools.

On the 1st of March, the association realized $2,200. In the treasury is a balance of $2,200, far too insufficient for the needs of this year. So women, young and old, are asked to contribute. The association has received an offer from the Lakeside Country Club of a building to be turned into a hospital for the summer months. The maintenance of this hospital means an added expense.

Although bad weather kept many citizens from the polls, sixty-four votes were cast for the bond issue and none against it. Mayor McClure cast his vote last night. The money will be used for the completion of the water works system, the completion of the sewerage system, improvement of streets and sidewalks, and for additional land.
